MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Namaste!

Dear Members and Valued Supporters,

With immense pride and gratitude, we present the Annual Report for the remarkable year 2022, showcasing the accomplishments of Volunteers Initiative Nepal (ViN). As President, I am pleased to reflect on our transformative journey in the past year.

Throughout 2022, our collective efforts, determination, and compassion fueled positive change in communities across our beloved nation. Our commitment to women's empowerment was exemplified through 75 enlightening classes, impacting 720 women with invaluable life skills and knowledge. The ripple effect of these initiatives is evident as 1,839 lives were transformed through our microcredit program, fostering entrepreneurship and financial independence among beneficiaries.

Children's development remains a cornerstone of our mission. We nurtured young minds in 57 Early Childhood Development centres, paving the way for a brighter future. With 63 dedicated teachers, volunteers and sponsorship provided to 48 underprivileged children, we ensured access to quality education and vital healthcare services. We constructed two beautiful child-friendly classrooms that benefit 40 children aged 3-5 years.

The essence of our achievements rested in our commitment to youth empowerment. We welcomed 75 dynamic youths into our IT training program, with 42 excelling in English language skills, thereby influencing the lives of 3,265 individuals. The guidance of our 35 devoted volunteers illuminated the path for nurturing young talents and aspirations.

Public health catalysed our accomplishments, empowering 430 individuals through comprehensive training while providing compassionate care to 173. Our menstrual hygiene programs showed our unwavering commitment to women's health.

Additionally, our dedication to environmental conservation manifested through the installation of 11 water tanks and training for 57 individuals in promoting organic farming, responsible water usage, and heightened awareness.

None of these accomplishments would have been feasible without the dedication of our staff, the support of volunteers and partners, and the unwavering generosity of our esteemed donors. We extend our heartfelt gratitude to all those who have played a pivotal role in making a difference in the lives of marginalised rural Nepalese communities.

With our valued stakeholders' continued support and collaboration, we remain committed to creating an even more meaningful impact in the future. As we look ahead to 2023, we anticipate yet another year of changing lives and making a positive difference, hand in hand and heart to heart.

Warm regards,

Bhupi Ghimire

President

HIGHLIGHTS OF 2022

SURVEY ON NEED OF WOMEN IN JITPURPHEDI

The survey started on march with the aim to find out the need of the women in jitpurhedi community. VIN has been supporting women groups and conducted various activities in the past. Due to the covid, it was challenging to continue. Therefore this survey found out the current need after COVID-19.

RESEARCH ON WASTE MANAGEMENT

In Environment Conservation project, this research was very important to conduct in the Jitpurhedi community. Regular activities are going on for the overall development of the children through our facilitator.

WeTomorrow Foundation, Switzerland, has supported the project.

SUSTAINABLE LIVELIHOOD & FOOD PRODUCTION

The project aims to ensure sustainable food production by installing a micro irrigation system with water resource management in Okhaldhunga. During the project's pilot phase, VIN supported the construction of 11 RCC water tanks for Dalit families and organized a five days long kitchen garden training after the completion of water tank construction for the participating families in 2022. Daisy & George from Learning English with Laughter (LEL), Canada has supported the project.

BACKGROUND

Nepali women are born into a patriarchal society that considers Women's Rights secondary to men's. Married early, with little or no education, land rights, or independent income, women often remain voiceless in society. They are highly dependent on men for their welfare. They bear the continued weight of socio-cultural discrimination and violence against them.

PROGRAM'S OVERVIEW

The program aims to empower women socially and economically through education, life skills, and income generation initiatives. The program has been implemented for 16 years in Jitpurphedi, 13 years in Okhaldhunga, and four years in Kavresthali. During this time, we have worked with and for the most marginalized women to improve their quality of life and uplift their social and economic status through income generation activities, formal and informal education, and social awareness workshops.

This program aims at meeting three objectives, around which rotate the three main projects active in Jitpurphedi, Kavresthali, Taluwa, Thulachhap, and Bhadaure!

ENSURE WOMEN'S ECONOMIC FREEDOM

Through the establishment of a Micro Credit system. This system is run through cooperatives, registered and certified by the Nepal government. It provides saving opportunities and small loans to women who want to engage in business or start businesses. So far, three cooperatives sponsored by us are active on the territory: Jitpurphedi Women Agriculture Co-operative Limited, Taluwa Women Multipurpose Cooperative Limited, and Saraswoti Women Agriculture Cooperative Limited. There are over 2000 members in these cooperatives. Local women entirely run these cooperatives. The beneficiaries of this project are local women from 20 to 59 years old - most of them were married under legal age (20 years old). The cooperatives contribute to giving their members more control over their finances, thus uplifting their living standards and life possibilities. Besides, they promote cooperation among their members.

DEVELOP WOMEN AS ENTREPRENEURS

The Women Entrepreneurship Development project empowers women by offering opportunities in both agriculture and non-agriculture-related income-generating activities. Through this initiative, women are able to step into entrepreneurship, improve their living conditions, and foster community development. To achieve these goals and cultivate a supportive business environment, we provide women with training in creating business plans, devising marketing strategies, designing products, attending entrepreneurship workshops, receiving vocational training, and benefiting from motivational speeches.

EDUCATE WOMEN ON THEIR RIGHTS AND EMPOWER THEM

This project includes English, Math, and computer literacy classes, trafficking prevention, health and sanitation campaigns, and soft skills workshops. Workshops address helpful topics, such as awareness against domestic violence, self-identity and self-esteem, communication, leadership, and team building. Additionally, in the frame of this project, social events are organized for the women to get together, build stronger bonds, and improve their social skills. Overall, through the Education and Life Skills project, we aim to help women to adjust and adapt to the current environment and social changes and to make them aware of their active role in the community.

MAJOR ACHIEVEMENTS IN 2022

Women's Empowerment in Jitpurphedi: Need identification Post-COVID

In Jitpurphedi, we completed a survey among women to understand their interests in educational classes provided by Volunteers Initiative Nepal (ViN) and assess the post-COVID situation. The survey revealed women's keen interest in vocational skills and entrepreneurship classes, showing a desire for self-reliance. Despite pandemic challenges, our workshops had a profound impact, empowering women with new skills, fostering entrepreneurship, and improving health and well-being. Our initiatives exemplify the power of women's empowerment in building a resilient and progressive community.

Transforming Lives in Okhaldhunga: ViN's Successful Women's Entrepreneurship Training

In a transformative effort, we conducted a highly successful women's entrepreneurship training program in Okhaldhunga. This program aimed to empower local women by providing training in jewelry making, handbag and purse crafting, and garment production. With the guidance of experienced trainers and mentors, over 50 enthusiastic participants gained comprehensive knowledge and hands-on experience in their chosen crafts.

The impact of the program has been remarkable, as women participants have taken bold entrepreneurial steps, launching their own businesses and showcasing their handcrafted products in local markets and online platforms. Our commitment to women's empowerment shines through this initiative, fostering economic growth and social progress in the region. Building on this success, We plans to expand its efforts to reach more women, fostering a brighter and more empowered future for communities in Okhaldhunga and beyond.

MANKUMARI LAMICHHANE'S JOURNEY TO INDEPENDENCE

Hard work and uncertain futures are some of the only constants for the people of JitpurPhedi, yet they are far from deterministic. Blossoming out of this, with the help of VIN, are many success stories like that of Mankumari Lamichhane.

Mankumari, with the help of her local Women's Business Centre, developed vital skills – such as crop management – that enabled her to start her own farm. Her business, in turn, yielded more than she could have ever hoped. Her vibrant tomatoes, chilies, and cucumbers not only provided sustenance and income for her family, but also stabilized her life. With her income, she was able to build a house, focus on her family, and provide generational wealth to her kids, giving them the freedom to pursue their dreams – all of which would have been impossible without the women's empowerment project.

With her education and financial independence, Mankumari has been empowered by her own community to forge her own destiny and is another countless success story in the mosaic of JitpurPhedi's glowing future.

BACKGROUND

In Nepal, the education system heavily prioritizes securing high grades, leading schools to compete for the maximum number of passing students. This focus on standardized tests and rote learning, often at the expense of true understanding, has led to a prevailing trend where children study primarily to attain certificates rather than to acquire genuine knowledge. This trend has concerning implications: children miss out on honing essential problem-solving and critical thinking skills crucial for their development. The lack of encouragement to voice opinions contributes to their self-doubt and can impact their future job satisfaction. Furthermore, the system's limitations in fostering creativity restrict opportunities for social interaction, the assertion of rights, and self-expression, all of which are vital for shaping well-rounded citizens.

Volunteers Initiative Nepal (VIN) believes that the protection and promotion of children's rights and childhood development are vital to creating an empowered community. Early Childhood Education (ECE) is one of the successful projects under the Children's Development Program. VIN has been implementing this program not only in Okhaldhunga but also in Okharpauwa - Nuwakot, Jitpurphedi, and Kavresthali communities of Kathmandu.

Although all children develop at their own pace, they progress through a sequence of physical, cognitive, and emotional growth and change. Children who are nurtured and well cared for are more likely to develop their learning, language, and emotional and social skills.

PROGRAM'S OVERVIEW

The primary goal of the Children's Development Program is to enhance the holistic development (physical, cognitive, social, and psychological) of children aged 3 to 15 and to support the primary education of those coming from disadvantaged backgrounds.

Our second goal is to promote children's rights of 6 to 15 years old through access to education and school- or community-based Children's Clubs.

To reach these goals, we run three main child-related projects:

CHILDREN'S CLUB PROJECT

This project aims to have all children aged 6 to 15 years exercise their fundamental rights through extracurricular activities, which teach them essential life skills and give them a platform to explore their talents and talk about child-related issues. Under this project, we are organizing summer and winter camps. Their objective is to involve children during their vacation to promote their innate talent and creativity for their overall physical, mental & socio-emotional development. Parents who are busy and cannot provide sufficient time for their children during vacation might send their children to such types of camps.

EARLY CHILDHOOD DEVELOPMENT PROJECT

The objective of the Early Childhood Development Education project is to increase access of 3 to 5 years old children to quality early education.

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE PROJECT

This project aims at increasing access of children aged 6 to 15 to quality education. Under this project, we run the following projects: teaching, teacher development, school infrastructure development, and sponsorship.

BACKGROUND

In Nepal, the health indicators are still alarming. Under-five mortality is 32‰, 27% of children under five are malnourished, and maternal mortality is 258 per 100,000 live birth (Nepal Demographic Health Survey 2016). Access to proper health and sanitation facilities is often minimal, and awareness of correct hygiene practices is low. About 19% of the population is deprived of sanitation facilities, whereas 17% do not have access to clean drinking water in the communities (Millennium Development Goals, Final Status Report 2010-2015). As regards health facilities in Nepal, remoteness and poverty are linked. Medical care is urban-focused. The doctor-to-population ratio for the whole country is 1:1724. Like most developing nations, doctors are geographically maldistributed in Nepal. The Kathmandu valley has one doctor for 850 people, but in rural areas, there is one doctor for every 150,000 people (The Janaki Medical College Journal of Medical Sciences, 2017). Ensuring access to health care and public health initiatives are significant challenges in developing nations like Nepal. The leading institutions that delivered essential health services in 2017-18 were the 125 public hospitals, including other ministries, the 1,822 non-public health facilities, the 198 primary health care centers, and the 3,808 health posts (Annual Report Department of Health Services 2074/75).

PROGRAM'S OVERVIEW

Public Health and Medical Care Program aims to promote healthy communities. The Public Health and Medical Care Program addresses community health and health education needs. Our organization has been working with community health centers to improve health indicators in the local context. The program has two components: the Public Health Initiative and the Medical Care Initiative. The first aims to prevent disease and prolong life through a healthy lifestyle and promoting health, while the second aims to control and treat diseases. Each component has various projects (see the table below).

MEDICAL CARE INITIATIVE

It focuses on health, hygiene, and sanitation education, promotion of hand washing and toilet use, support for building hygienic toilets and trash collecting bins, organizing health clinics and outreach camps, conducting school health and community campaigns for a healthy lifestyle, prevention of communicable and non-communicable diseases, provision of quality health services to senior citizens, physically and mentally impaired people, single women, and ensuring safe drinking water and institutional delivery. The initiative includes specific projects: health hygiene and sanitation education, school health education, first aid training, and health research.

PUBLIC HEALTH INITIATIVE

It is an integrated program to prevent disease, improve life expectancy, treat conditions, and promote human health through organized efforts and informed choices of society, organizations, public and private, communities and individuals. Ultimately, it aims to improve the quality of life through the prevention and treatment of disease, including mental health. This is done by monitoring cases and health indicators and promoting healthy behaviors.

ViN's Hygiene Awareness Program for Children: A Healthier Future

We conducted interactive sessions on tooth brushing and hand washing in Okhaldhunga and Kathmandu schools, promoting essential health and hygiene practices among children. With the active involvement of ViN staff and medical experts, the program effectively educated children on the significance of maintaining good dental health and proper hand-washing techniques. The engaging approach encouraged children to adopt healthier habits, leading to a reduction in dental issues and the spread of infections. Our commitment to public health and medical care initiatives has positively impacted the well-being of the children and communities we serve. By empowering the younger generation with valuable knowledge, we envision a healthier and brighter future where good health practices are integral to daily life.

Breaking Barriers: Menstrual Hygiene Education for Girls and Women

We have conducted vital menstrual hygiene education sessions for girls and women aged 10 to 50 in the community and schools. Addressing common misconceptions and promoting proper hygiene practices, We empowered participants with knowledge about menstruation, symptoms, and self-care during this natural process. Beyond the school setting, we engaged families and the community to destigmatize menstruation, ensuring girls received the support and care they needed during their periods. This initiative fosters confident and informed women, breaking barriers and promoting health for a brighter future.

Medical Volunteers and Professional Doctors for Community Health Posts

Our crucial intention is to support for community health posts, providing assistance through dedicated medical volunteers and professional doctors. ## BACKGROUND

The devastating earthquake of the 25th of April 2015 resulted in over 8,500 deaths and left thousands of people injured. Over 600,000 houses were destroyed. The places we worked - Kavresthali, Jitpurphedi, Okharpauwa, Bhadaure, Taluwa, and Thulachhap - were severely affected. According to the data collected by our organization after the earthquake, in Jitpurphedi, 900 households and six schools were affected, while nine people were killed and 15 were injured. In Okharpauwa, 1,500 houses and eight schools were damaged, ten people died, and more than 15 were wounded. Likewise, in Bhadaure, Taluwa, and Thulachhap, 553 homes and six schools were destroyed. There were no cases of casualties, and a few people were injured. In response, we initiated the Disaster Relief and Recovery Project to support the earthquake victims and provide emergency support. This later developed into the Disaster Risk Reduction Program with three project phases: Rapid rescue and Response, Rehabilitation and Reconstruction, and Sustainability. We are now focused on implementing the third project phase, Reconstruction and Sustainability since 2017.

PROGRAM'S OVERVIEW

This program aims to minimize the risk of natural disasters and provide relief and safety to vulnerable communities. We have mobilized volunteers to reconstruct earthquake-hit houses at various project locations. In addition, we provide financial support and materials per the family's needs.

The objectives of this program are as follows:

- Educate Communities on Disaster Risk Reduction, Response, Mitigation, and Preparedness
- Promote and ensure disaster-resilient infrastructure
- Develop skills and involve affected people in entrepreneurship

We prioritized as beneficiaries the families with the following characteristics: financially in need, presence of a person with a disability, single woman, widow-headed, and lack of regular income. The following steps have been taken before starting the house reconstruction:

- Coordinate with the local government to get the list of families that meet our selection criteria.
- Survey every family from the list to identify their situation.
- Collect the required documents such as victim card, citizenship, land certificate, house design, application, and recommendation letter from the local government from the victim families.
- Conduct a meeting with the family to set a plan and determine the involvement of both our organization and the family in the project.

Strengthening Communities: ViN's Survey and DRR Committees

A survey was conducted in Taluwa, Thulachaap, and Bhadaure communities to understand their challenges in preparing for disasters. our plan to form Disaster Risk Reduction (DRR) committees in each community and provide them with training to help during emergencies. This approach will make the communities safer and more prepared for any difficulties that might come their way. We dedicated to empowering these communities, so they can face challenges together and build a stronger foundation for disaster preparedness.

MAJOR ACHIEVEMENTS IN 2022

Environmental Conservation Program: Addressing Climate Impact and Waste Management

We have initiated an impactful environment conservation program with international and national volunteers. The program focused on researching climate change's impact on agriculture and waste management in Kathmandu and Okhaldhunga.

Through dedicated research, the volunteers identified major challenges posed by climate change on agriculture and highlighted issues in waste management. We aim to use the findings to implement sustainable solutions and create a greener future for the communities.

Agricultural Empowerment: Seeds Distribution and Teaching Farm Development

We had a significant impact in Okhaldhunga by distributing diverse seeds for vegetables and plants, promoting food security and sustainable farming practices. This initiative aimed to empower local communities with the resources needed to cultivate nutritious crops and foster self-sufficiency.

Furthermore, we have conducted a teaching farm development project at the Naratika Community Center, creating a dedicated space for educational farming activities. This teaching farm served as a hub for locals to learn organic farming techniques and best practices, equipping them with valuable skills to enhance their agricultural endeavors.

Sustainable Food Production: Empowering Families with Sustainable Solutions

We are positively impacting through our permaculture project. Supporting 11 families, We constructed water tanks with a 4000-liter capacity, benefiting 31 individuals with a sustainable water supply. Additionally, 11 families received training on organic vegetable production, ensuring nutritious crops using eco-friendly methods. Moreover, 21 families underwent specialized permaculture training, equipping them with self-sustaining agricultural practices. OUR dedication is to have sustainable community development that fosters resilience and empowers families to thrive harmoniously with nature, creating a greener and more sustainable future.

INTERNATIONAL VOLUNTEERS

My experience was amazing; I will always remember it in my life. It brought and taught me so much about everything in the life. I really felt that I grew during this experience because I was inspired by the Nepali people who are so strong, so helpful, generous and never complaining even though they are working very hard. I felt very happy to share what I could taught to the children and the women and hope it can make their life better". -Agathe Labbe, France, Public Health and Medical Care.

PLANS FOR 2023

SUSTAINABLE FOOD PRODUCTION (MICRO- IRRIGATION PROJECT)

VIN has been implementing Sustainable Food Production Project in Taluwa, Thulachap, and Bhadaure of Okhaldhunga since 2021.

This project ensures sustainable food production among Dalits by managing local water resources for micro irrigation projects. The project will support regular nutrition supply and increase the socio-economic status of Dalits in Okhaldhunga.

This project supports Dalits:

- To make a water collection chamber close to their houses where they can store water from multiple sources;
- Train farmers for the optimum use of water;
- Train techniques of the micro irrigation system;
- Establish a base for socio entrepreneurship and micro enterprises.

The project ensures water availability throughout the year and supports farmers growing vegetables. In addition, the project is linked up with permaculture and agroforestry projects to ensure sustainable food production. Our strategy to implement this project is in three phases over five years. In the first phase of one year, we did a pilot project with 20 beneficiaries. Our target is to construct water tank to each family of the whole community and train vegetable farming techniques through permaculture.

In this project, we constructed a reinforced RCC water storage tank of 4000 liters for micro irrigation. The tank is filled with water from different sources such as pond, river, stream, springs, and community tap that is available nearby. Also, there will be a rainwater harvesting system in place. In some drought areas, they can collect only rainwater. The storage tank's outlet is connected to a pipeline system linked with drip irrigation or sprinkles for the micro irrigation to the kitchen garden or through a watering can. This will support farmers in growing vegetables in the kitchen garden throughout the year with a small quantity of water. The project will be implemented in multiple phases with tracking of progress. We aim to construct at least 50 water tank in 2023.
